SHAG RAG

Burlington Shag Club
October 1999

Notes from your Vice-President

Evelyn Turner

Well, Madame President is back from one trip and is preparing for another so I will try to fill you in on happenings.

Fun Monday Vending Table

The Burlington and Danville Shag Clubs combined their efforts once again and set up a vendors table at Fun Monday to sell leftover workshop items. Although we were hampered by the rain, sales of the t-shirts, huggers, tote bags, and shag towels were pretty good. We sold approximately $300 worth of items, so that is another $150 to add to our workshop total. Thanks to those members who helped work the table.

Nominations for Officers for Year 2000

As stated in our by-laws, nominations for officers for the coming year are made at the October meeting. Bob Maccia is Nominations Chairman and will have sheets ready for you to write your choices on. If you cannot attend the meeting and you wish to nominate someone, please contact Bob at 226-8811. Bob will call everyone who has been nominated and see if they are willing to run as an officer. Elections will be held at the November meeting.

Benefit Golf Tournament

Don't forget, our benefit golf tournament for Alamance County Special Olympics is this Saturday, the 9th at Southwick Golf Course. Not only do we have the big party cooler and three golf clubs to raffle off, but Vic Gillespie has donated several beautiful large prints, which will be auctioned off after the tournament.

If you are not playing, you can still volunteer to help and/or bring a dessert. If you need more info, contact Steve McHone or see the flyer elsewhere in newsletter.

Next Business Meeting

The next meeting is October 15th. There are many things to be discussed so please make plans to be there.

Shaggers Give With Their Hearts Again

The Association Of Carolina Shag Clubs is donating $10,000 and the SOS Enhancement Committee is donating $2,000 to help the victims of Hurricane Floyd. In addition, each shag club has been asked to help by giving a donation. Because we do not want to wait until our business meeting on October 15th to act on this, our four officers have agreed to donate an initial amount of $500 on behalf of the club. If at a later date, additional funds are needed, this can be brought up at a business meeting.

As all of you shaggers saw, whether in person or on television, there was extensive damage to the eastern areas of North and South Carolina. Although North Myrtle Beach and Ocean Drive seemed to have been spared the full force of destruction, there were some homes, hotels, and clubs with damage. This especially hits close to home to all shaggers.

As we did for the victims of Hurricane Andrew that hit Florida several years ago with so much damage, we shaggers have joined our forces to help others so much in need. But of course, that is what S H A G is all about - Sharing Helping And Giving.

Look inside to see evidence of all the fun that was had at SOS. I believe the saying is "A Picture Is Worth A Thousand Words". Well, there was a lot to be said for this week of fun!

Fall Migration 1999 - Linda Maccia

Thursday, 9/16/99 - Well, I decided to write an article for SOS and I decided on my way to work today that I would start it BEFORE we left. This Hurricane Floyd thing really got everybody worried. I've watched the weather channel more in the last few days than I've ever watched it in my life. I've said prayers and more prayers and this morning, it seems my prayers were answered. So, on my way to work today, I put a tape in and the first song was "Mr. So and So" and I turned up the volume and I could see Buddy on the dance floor at the Arcade and I knew all was well with the world.

Bob and I, Carol and Bubba, and Bob and Glenda are leaving Monday morning for MY first Fun Monday and I can't wait. I've emailed Carol all week, emailed Mike Lewis for updates, and kept on packing. Logged onto the SOS web site Thursday afternoon and found out SOS is ON!

Well, it's Friday morning, 9/17, and the sun is shining and I'm so excited I can hardly wait. I'm semi-packed, ready to load the car and get on the road. I'm putting up my Barbie dolls and teething rings - Maw-Maw is coming out of her shell for the week. I love being a grandmother, but every now and again the "wild" in me starts to come out for a little while.

Well, it's Monday, 9/27 now, and SOS is over. It all happened sooo fast, but it was sooo fun. Fun Monday was rainy, but it certainly did not dampen our spirits (all ALL the spirits I consumed that day). The Mojo Blues Band was absolutely wonderful and I was like a kid in a candy store. Got to the condo finally about 1:30 or so and the beer started to roll and so did we - Bob and myself, Bubba and Carol, and Bob and Glenda. Grabbed a quick sandwich, went up the street and boogied with the band. Met a couple of ladies from Mississippi who drove 11 hours to see the band and had fun with them. We finally found George and Vickie and they brought us up to date on what had happened before we got there. After "Fun Monday" was officially over, back to the condo and then to the Clubhouse to eat and then back to the condo again for a "nightcap". Tuesday came and went for me; naturally I blew it out my nose the first day of SOS and didn't feel so well on Tuesday, but I didn't care. I had waited for one year to be at Fun Monday and it was worth it.

Burlington was well represented, as usual, and by Thursday most of the "regulars" were at SOS. Several of us went to 2001 on Wednesday night to see the Mojo Blues Band again and that was fun. Thursday was the "big" softball match-up between Burlington and Danville Shag Club, so JoAnn, Pam, and I walked down the beach to see how the big game was going. Seems that Danville beat Burlington, don't know the score - I was too busy talking to Lynda Justice's soon-to-be daughter-in-law, Kim.

Bob and I left on Friday afternoon, which meant that we didn't stay for the "Tea Party" on Saturday, but heard nothing but good comments about that. Sounded like everybody had a great time at the Arcade. Let's see, when is the next Fun Monday????

Fall Migration 1999

It's a good thing "Floyd" swept through NMB with only minor damage cause I think Gail Smith's and Buddy's wrath would have been a much worse storm to have weathered had they not been able to go to SOS! Buddy was worse than a youngun pouting around the house and Ron said Gail was just as bad. Can you imagine what it would have been like if they lived in the same house?

The Smiths went earlier than us, but called back with road, weather, damage, and alcohol reports daily. Roads were fine, but they had finished a pitcher of Bennie's "Pink Stuff", had to hang up to mix the next batch.

We finally arrive Sunday around noon. Get checked in and start unloading. Buddy fills one of those carts and sticks me on the elevator with it (and this little old lady). She said "Gosh! How long are ya'll staying?" Buddy said "a week" and she said "how many of you are there?" Buddy told her "just the two of us but my wife packs everything, right down to the night light!" She said "I brought a night light too". Buddy said he'd take the stairs and meet me at the condo. I get off on 3 instead of 2, wrestle the damn cart down the hallway, realize (when my key won't fit) I'm on the wrong floor, get back on the elevator, go down to 2 while Buddy's running upstairs to 3 trying to find me. We finally meet up on 2 at the right condo and we're both furious. It was not pretty!

We get everything unloaded, unpacked, make the bed and Buddy fixes Lynda and me a pitcher of "Pink Stuff". I mellow right out and forgive/forget the elevator incident. Start on pitcher number 2 and decide to head over to the Arcade for our first of many hamburger / hangovers. Jimmy and Mary Ann have been waiting on us along with the Statesville crowd. We eat and order pitcher number 3. Statesville's buying shooters, we do several and return the favor. Here comes the Palmetto crowd. We make introductions and start some serious partying, Murl style. I don't remember when we left or whether Lynda was with us or not! I do remember telling Chris not to sell me anymore alcohol and spending most of the night on the bathroom floor. Buddy got up the next morning and wanted to know why our towels were in the floor!!!

Day 2: FUN MONDAY - We get ready to go help man the Danville/Burlington concession table. Trying to sell stuff left over from our workshop. Sales were not too brisk. I think our members did more buying than anyone else. We do Eno Beach hot dogs and then here comes Mike and Earline with jello shooters (bless their little hearts). After several shooters, Larry, John, George, Sandra, Vickie, and Lynda are singing and dancing some little ditty about pennies, nickels, dimes, quarters. Sure hope someone got it on film!!

Rick, Evelyn, Lynda, Buddy, and I work the SOS Raffle Board for an hour. Boy that was fun. What few brain cells that stayed sober last night are trying to find one number out of 5,000 and they're in perfect order on the boards in rows of 50's. Our sober cells were having just a little problem following something so simple.

Rommie did a great job playing tunes in the street when the bands were taking breaks. We finally got rained out and closed up our booth. Our favorite in-house DJ, Roy, is playing over at the Arcade so we go listen. Think we split another hamburger. Lynda went to the grocery store. We went back to change for the evening and rush back to the Arcade. Mike's playing tonight. Don't remember when we left, but I'm sure we had a good time.

Day 3: Tuesday - We might have been up and dressed by noon. Back to the Arcade, split another hamburger. Party with Roy playing again and Buddy gets talked into entering the Rookie's Revenge Mixed Doubles Contest. 16 couples - we'd never seen one before. It was a lot of fun to watch. The crowd actually gets to participate by screaming, clapping, yelling, whistling, whatever you're the loudest at. The couples are judged more on entertainment than precision and did Buddy ever entertain. He and his partner won 1st Place with a whole lot of help from the crowd. You ain't never heard so much whoopin' and hollerin'!! We're proud of ya, Honey. Lynda and I were not feeling too good. We left right after the contest. We had to see about hiring a carpenter before Buddy came home anyway so we could get his head through the door!

Day 4: Wednesday - Started the day at the "Purple Parrot". Not your regular bar, really it's a house the Statesville crowd rents, but they have great remedies for hangovers; Yucca juice, Evening primrose, Mimosa, Beer, Bennie's Pink Stuff ... we felt much better when we left.

Go to condo, grab Lynda and we're off to Larry and Shirley's open house - their beautiful, brand new, gorgeous house. Lynda and I tried to find out how to get on the "key" list. Aleck and Michelle were telling wedding stories, theirs and his brothers. You'll have to ask me about one of the brother stories when you see me. UH! Just say UH! And I'll know which one you want to hear. To the condo again, change and off to the Arcade. Dance the early evening away with Harold then Murl is up. Jesse, Robert, and Kim finally show up. Think we finally left around 2 a.m. and Murl is still going.

Day 5: Thursday - We were supposed to go to Tidemaster for the annual Turner/Danville breakfast, but we didn't quite make it - 9 a.m., I don't think so! Hickory asked us to brunch at 11 a.m. and we didn't make that one either! Make it to the Arcade just in time for me to get another hamburger and watch the last 6 finalists in the "Smoothies" contest. They were all great, of course, they were all from North Carolina! Scott and Jenna (Greensboro) took 1st Place, Gene and Nancy (Durham) took 2nd, missed 3rd, and our very own Kevin and Susan took 4th Place. Way to go Harrells!!

Back to condo, I decide to take a power nap. Lynda is resting, so Buddy and Jesse decide to walk down to the Arcade all by themselves. They managed to stay out of trouble. I show up around 6 p.m. and I think we left around 2 a.m. again.

Day 6: Friday - We show up at Fat Harold's around 1 p.m. for Eno Beach's Jelly Roll Show and Ripete Record promo. Completely missed the Jelly Rolls. Decide later to go to condo for power nap. Up, dressed, back to the Arcade.

Murl's in a TUX! Got great shots. Kim and I go upstairs with Cindy and Pat to do a Watermelon shooter, well actually several. Man, they were good. Meet up with Mike and Dana. Hadn't seen them since the Augusta Classic. Introduce Mike and Rommie. Floor packs out. Russell's playing at Pirate's Cove, so we hang out there for a while with Harold and Laverne from Eno Beach. We mosey over to Boulevard Grill and hang out with the Lake Tillery crowd a while. (Special note to Brad/Hertz Equipment: I got to dance with Arni, coonie, coonie, coonie!!) Back to the Arcade. Sherry makes Russ show everyone who comes in his red toenails. They were painted while he was asleep (passed out?). Close the place down with Murl.

Desserts !! Desserts !!
Don't Forget The Desserts !!

Once again it's time for all of our volunteer members to show off their baking talents by bringing a dessert to the benefit golf tournament on Saturday. After our good BBQ lunch prepared and served by Smitty, everyone looks forward to the variety of desserts that have been brought in. It is just another way you can support your shag club in such a worthwhile and fun event. So get in that kitchen and get busy, and we will see you at Southwick on Saturday.

Thank You

We want to thank you for your support and words of encouragement during the two days we were playing at the Arcade. We had a good time and hope to be able to play again. We really appreciate you being there. Thanks again,
Roy and Peggy Childress

Day 7: Saturday - The Evening Primrose really kicked in this morning. We wake up in fine shape, looking forward to our club's "Free Pour". I personally think that went over real well. If you have any doubts, we can ask Judy, Carol, or Jesse. Later on we're at the Arcade again and around 11:30 Buddy said he's ready to go back to the condo! I'm not. We haven't been to Ducks yet for me to dance with Larry. He made me go home anyway. You might know, the night I feel the best is our earliest night in!

Day 8: Sunday - Packing, ILL, ILL, ILL. Completely missed gospel hour. Finally get everything loaded, have breakfast, show up at the Tidemaster (we're spending the night with Rick and Evelyn), unload again and we're off to see what's on SOS's last Sunday. Nothing happening at the Arcade, Boulevard Grill, or Pirate's Cove. Walk over to Fay Harold's for the Camp Kemo Auction. Left Rick and Evelyn there, we went to Ducks. Hook up with Larry and Shirley, stand around and get just a "rad tipsey". Now buddy says I can dance with Larry. Carl and Peg materialize, we make introductions. Have another drink. Here comes Rick and Evelyn. Larry and Shirley have to leave. We have a Duck Burger. Here comes Elaine, Mike Rink, Annette, Dawn, and several other Arcade staffers. Have another drink. Then we're all off to Pirate's Cove. More drinks, couple of shooters. Lori, Chris and Renee from the Arcade join us, more drinks. We try to sneak back to the Arcade where we left our cars. Just backing out when Annette and Dawn come running up to the car and force the four of us to get in a LIMO with them and Mike and Elaine. We're off to Fat Harold's again. More drinks, more shooters. We dance. Dawn cries? We still don't know why. Evelyn and I eat, more like pig out! Rick and Buddy walk back over to Ducks, Evelyn and I meet them there. Dance a couple of times and we're gone. Back to their condo and Evelyn fixes grilled cheese sandwiches. Off to beddie-bye.

Doesn't sound like much of a Sunday? Guess you had to have been there!
